

New Resource for Registered Nurse Delegation in the School Setting

During the open forum of the October 2017 quarterly Texas Board of Nursing (Board) Meeting, Laurie Combe, MN, RN, NCSN, President-elect of the National Association of School Nurses, presented a request to the Board to offer additional guidance and clarity for nurses practicing in school settings. Specifically, guidance was requested with interpreting the Board's rules related to delegation.

In response to this request, Board Staff collaborated with Anita Wheeler, MSN, RN, School Health Coordinator/School Nurse Consultant for the Texas Department of State Health Services School Health Program. Over the next several months, meetings were held to better understand the practice setting complexities and to develop a resource for registered nurse delegation decision making in the school setting. This resource is intended to offer guidance on four common scenarios that school nurses encounter related to delegation:

1. delegation of nursing tasks to unlicensed personnel for students with a stable and predictable condition;
2. delegation of nursing tasks to unlicensed personnel for students who develop an acute, unstable or unpredictable condition requiring emergent measures;
3. school registered nurse supervision of unlicensed personnel performing tasks delegated by other licensed health care providers; and
4. school registered nurse's role when tasks are assigned to unlicensed personnel by a school administrator.

Board Staff and Ms. Wheeler hosted a focus group meeting with school nurses representing the Texas School Nurses Organization in May 2018 to seek stakeholder input and review the draft delegation decision-making resource. The focus group's input and suggestions were incorporated into the draft. Following review by the Board's legal team, a final version was created and presented to the Board at the October 2018 Board meeting.

The final version of the School Nurse Delegation Resource can be accessed from the Board's website (www.bon.texas.gov) by selecting Practice, then selecting Delegation Resource Packet, then opening the PDF entitled School Nurse Delegation.

Care for the Caregiver: Helping Nurses Before, During and After Disaster Situations

By: Kanaka Sathasivan, MPH, Texas Nurses Association

Whether it is flooding, a tornado or a hurricane, disasters do not stop nurses from working and dealing with the challenges of providing care in compromised environments. In addition, as residents of the area, nurses are equally concerned about the safety of their own families.

"Many of the nurses who responded during the 2017 hurricanes were distraught, if not traumatized," says Danita Alfred, PhD, RN, professor at University of Texas at Tyler and an expert in disaster management. "I listened to their stories and wanted nurses to have resources to help them respond to and recover from events like these."

For just these situations, the Texas Nurses Association and Texas Organization of Nurse Executives, with support from Johnson & Johnson, developed the Care for the Caregiver online toolkit with Alfred and three other experts with disaster experience: Cameron Brown, BSSW, MDiv, DMin; Jane Le Vieux, PhD, RN-BC, LPC-S, NHDP-BC; and Paula Stangeland, PhD, RN, CRRN, NE-BC.

The website contains links to guides from the Red Cross and evaluation tools. Several videos cover preparing for disasters, working during disasters, and recovering after disasters; and infographics offer quick references for stressful situations.

Nurses are often compelled by their duty to care for others and can experience mental and physical fatigue, moral distress, compassion fatigue and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. "Your own reactions to the situation play a role in decreasing heightened emotional responses that may affect patient care. Your team, patients and families are looking to you to help them," Le Vieux says.

To best care for patients, nurses must care for themselves. First, know your family and loved ones are safe. Develop emergency kits, pack "go bags," and plan for potential disaster situations ahead of time. Second, learn to understand your personal capabilities, the situation, and the work environment.

Summary of Actions

A regular meeting of the Board of Nursing was held October 25-26 2018, in Austin.
The following is a summary of Board actions taken during this meeting.

In the October 26, 2018, edition of the Texas Register:

The Texas Board of Nursing (Board) adopted amendments to §211.9, relating to General Considerations. During the 84th Legislative Session, Senate Bill (SB) 20 was enacted by the Texas Legislature and amended Chapter 2261 of the Texas Government Code. Among other things, SB 20 requires each state agency, by rule, to establish a procedure to identify each contract that requires enhanced contract or performance monitoring and submit information to the agency's governing body. The adopted amendments are necessary to implement these statutory requirements. Effective date: October 31, 2018.

In the November 9, 2018, edition of the Texas Register:

The Board adopted amendments to §222.8, relating to Authority to Order and Prescribe Controlled Substances, and §222.10, relating to Enforcement. The adopted rule implements the statutory requirements of House Bill (HB) 2561 and provides guidance to Board regulated practitioners who prescribe controlled substances. First, as required by the bill, the adopted rule requires Advanced Practice Registered Nurses (APRNs) to access and review the Prescription Monitoring Program (PMP) prior to prescribing opioids, benzodiazepines, barbiturates, or carisoprodol. The adopted rule also requires APRNs to document their review of the PMP and their rationale for prescribing the medication in the patient's medical record. For further information, see the November 9, 2018, issue of the Texas Register. Effective date: September 1, 2019.

In the November 16, 2018, edition of the Texas Register:

The Board adopted amendments to §217.13, relating to Peer Assistance Program. The amendments are necessary for compliance with the requirements of HB 2950, effective September 1, 2017. HB 2950 amended the Occupations Code §301.257 to provide an opportunity for individuals to have their required participation in the Board's contracted peer assistance program re-evaluated at the time of their initial licensure. Among other things, the bill requires the Board to develop a process to determine, at the time of initial licensure, whether an individual should be required to participate in the Board's contracted peer assistance program. In making its determination, the Board is required to review the individual's criminal history record information, and, if applicable, determine whether participation in the program is warranted based upon the time that has elapsed since the individual's conviction or end of community supervision. Further, the Board must re-evaluate or require the contractor administering the Board's peer assistance program to re-evaluate the treatment plan or the time the individual is required to participate in the peer assistance program based on the person's individualized needs. Finally, the bill requires the Board, if appropriate, and if satisfied that the individual has achieved a satisfactory period of treatment or documented sobriety, as defined by Board rules, to authorize a waiver of peer assistance program completion if the individual's continued participation in the peer assistance program is not necessary. The amendments are necessary to implement these statutory requirements. Effective date: November 18, 2018.

In the November 30, 2018, edition of the Texas Register:

The Board adopted amendments to §§216.1 - 216.11, relating to Continuing Competency. The amendments are adopted with editorial and formatting changes to the proposed text published in the October 12, 2018, issue of the Texas Register (43 TexReg 6737). Effective date: December 5, 2018.

In the December 7, 2018, edition of the Texas Register:

The Board adopted amendments to §§219.1 - 219.7, 219.9 - 219.12, relating to Advanced Practice Registered Nurse Education. Chapter 219 addresses advanced practice registered nurse (APRN) education in Texas. Specifically, Chapter 219 applies to APRN programs that have yet to receive approval or accreditation by a national APRN educational accrediting body. Because only graduates of an accredited program are eligible for APRN licensure upon graduation, Chapter 219 provides an avenue for graduates of APRN programs awaiting full approval or accreditation to become licensed in the intervening time period. The majority of the changes to the chapter are non-substantive, editorial changes that are necessary to remove outdated references, correct grammatical errors, and make conforming changes to the rule text for consistency with other Board rules. Effective date: December 9, 2018

Nurses and Cosmetic Procedures:

Registered Nurses

The Board frequently receives questions about whether cosmetic procedures are within the scope of practice for a registered nurse (RN). Because each nurse has a different background, knowledge, and level of competence, the Board does not have an all-purpose list of tasks that every nurse can or cannot perform, and it is up to each individual nurse to use sound judgment when deciding whether or not to perform any particular procedure or act.

However, the following resources are intended to provide you guidance in determining if cosmetic procedures are within your scope of practice.

What is the RN scope of practice specific cosmetic procedures?

Registered nursing, also known as professional nursing, is the performance of an act that requires substantial specialized judgment and skill, the proper performance of which is based on knowledge and application of the principles of biological, physical, and social science as acquired by a completed course in an approved school of professional nursing. The term does not include acts of medical diagnosis or the prescription of therapeutic or corrective measures.

Professional nursing involves:

A. the observation, assessment, intervention, evaluation, rehabilitation, care and counsel, or health teachings of a person who is ill, injured, infirm, or experiencing a change in normal health processes;

B. the maintenance of health or prevention of illness;

C. the administration of a medication or treatment as ordered by a physician, podiatrist, or dentist;

D. the supervision or teaching of nursing;

E. the administration, supervision, and evaluation of nursing practices, policies, and procedures;

F. the requesting, receiving, signing for, and distribution of prescription drug samples to patients at practices at which an advanced practice registered nurse is authorized to sign prescription drug orders as provided by Subchapter B, Chapter 157;

G. the performance of an act delegated by a physician under Tex. Occ. Code §§157.0512, 157.054, 157.058, or 157.059; and

H. the development of the nursing care plan [Tex. Occ. Code §301.002(2)].

Professional nursing requires the tasks/procedures/acts being performed be within the scope of the RN's practice and appropriate orders be in place. While the Nursing Practice Act (NPA) and board rules do not specifically address cosmetic procedures, when appropriately ordered for a specific client by a provider who is authorized to prescribe such treatments, each RN would need to individually determine whether or not that specific act is within his/her scope of practice. Each RN would need to individually apply the Board's Six-Step Decision-Making Model for Determining Nursing Scope of Practice, a step-by-step tool designed to assist a nurse in determining whether a task/procedure/act is within his/her scope of practice. Note that two RNs could both utilize the Six-Step Model and come to differing answers of whether or not the same given task/procedure/act is within their respective scopes of practice because each nurse has his/her own individual knowledge, experience, training, etc.

Below are some examples of what you should consider when evaluating whether a cosmetic procedure is within your scope of practice:

1. Whether you have the necessary educational preparation and knowledge to perform the task safely.
 - a. Was the procedure taught to you as a part of your formal educational curriculum in a school of professional nursing?

- b. Do you know what complications and/or untoward effects may result from the task or procedure?
 - c. Does the task or procedure require a higher level of licensure or a different level of authorization?
2. Whether you have the competency and skill to safely perform the task or procedure.
 - a. Have you obtained additional training or continuing education specific to the cosmetic procedure?
 - i. Keep in mind that continuing education and on-the-job training may expand competency at the current level of licensure but CANNOT qualify a RN to perform the same level of care as an APRN.
 - b. In the event of complications and/or untoward effects, are you able to respond appropriately?
3. Whether there is an appropriate order from a provider authorized to prescribe such treatments.
 - a. For administration of drugs, such as Botox, does the order contain all pertinent information, such as dose, strength, route, etc.?
 - b. Do you have a standing delegation order, if applicable?
4. Whether there is appropriate medical supervision available.
 - a. Is the ordering provider on-site?

An RN should not perform a cosmetic procedure if the RN lacks the necessary educational preparation, knowledge, competency, or skill to safely perform the procedure; lacks an order for the procedure; or lacks appropriate supervision.

To further assist you in evaluating whether a cosmetic procedure is within your scope of practice, Board Staff recommend review of several resources available on the Texas BON website. These resources include:

- Tex. Admin. Code §217.11 (Standards of Nursing Practice) outlines the minimum standards of nursing care at all licensure levels [Licensed Vocational Nurse (LVN), RN, Advanced Practice Registered Nurse (APRN)]. Specific subsections of this rule can be directly applied to this situation and should be considered. All nurses must:
 - ✓ (1)(A)- know and conform to the Texas NPA and the board's rules and regulations as well as all federal, state, or local laws, rules or regulations affecting the nurse's current area of nursing practice;
 - ✓ (1)(B)- implement measures to promote a safe environment for clients and others;
 - ✓ (1)(C)- know the rationale for and the effects of medications and treatments and correctly administer the same;
 - ✓ (1)(G)- obtain instruction and supervision as necessary when implementing nursing procedures or practices;
 - ✓ (1)(H)- make a reasonable effort to obtain orientation/training for competency when encountering new equipment and technology or unfamiliar care situations;
 - ✓ (1)(M)- institute appropriate nursing interventions that might be required to stabilize a client's condition and/or prevent complications;
 - ✓ (1)(O)- implement measures to prevent exposure to infectious pathogens and communicable conditions;
- ✓ (1)(R)- be responsible for one's own continuing competence in nursing practice and individual professional growth; and
- ✓ (1)(T)- accept only those nursing assignments that take into consideration client safety and that are commensurate with the nurse's educational preparation, experience, knowledge, and physical and emotional ability.
- Position Statement 15.9 (Performance of Laser Therapy by RNs or LVNs)
- Position Statement 15.23 (The Use of Complementary Modalities by the LVN or RN)
- Position Statement 15.11 (Delegated Medical Acts) - specifically addresses the nurse's role with delegated medical acts. Board Staff recommend caution when performing a delegated medical act, as delegated medical acts do not diminish the responsibility of the nurse in any way to adhere to the Board's Standards of Nursing Practice, Tex. Admin. Code §217.11. Nurses function under their own licenses and assume responsibility and accountability for quality, safe care in accordance with all applicable laws/rules/regulations; nurses do not practice under a physician's license.
- Position Statement 15.14 (Duty of a Nurse in any Practice Setting) - discusses a landmark court case which demonstrates how every nurse has a duty to promote patient safety and that duty to a patient supersedes any physician order or facility policy.
- Position Statement 15.10 (Continuing Education: Limitations for Expanding Scope of Practice) - clarifies that expansion of an individual nurse's scope of practice has licensure-related limitations and that informal continuing nursing education or on-the job training cannot be substituted for formal education leading to the next level of practice/licensure or authorization.

Board Staff also recommend review of the Texas Medical Board Rule 193.17, entitled Nonsurgical Medical Cosmetic Procedures, that addresses the rules related to physician delegation of non-surgical medical cosmetic procedures. In addition, depending on the range of services you plan to provide, there may be specific licensure requirements including, but not limited to, Cosmetology Licensing. Having a nursing license authorizes you to practice nursing within your licensure level and scope of practice but not to do other things that require separate licensure/certification. You can find additional regulations related to cosmetologists/practicing cosmetology from the agency that regulates cosmetologists, the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation. Additionally, there may be applicable guidance related to the practice setting; e.g., a private physician office might have specialty specific guidelines from the American Board of Medical Specialties. Beyond following all applicable laws, rules, and regulations regarding the acts/tasks and the setting, the nurse would need to practice consistently with the employer's policies, assuming these policies promote patient safety (refer back to Position Statement 15.14 if necessary).

If a license is obtained via another agency or regulatory body to perform duties and tasks in another setting, for example a medical spa, the Board considers persons who hold nursing licensure accountable for acts within the practice of nursing even if these acts are performed 'off duty' or in another setting [Tex. Occ. Code §301.004(a)(5)]. One example of this may be performing a lower leg wax for a client who has diabetes and peripheral neuropathy; this client may not be able to feel if the wax is too hot and there may be associated burns and a poor outcome. In this example, you would be held responsible for applying your nursing knowledge and judgment with this particular client. There is also a Frequently Asked Question which relates to this discussion (Practice of Nursing). Position Statement 15.15 (Board's Jurisdiction Over a Nurse's Practice in Any Role and Use of the Nursing Title) reiterates that any licensed nurse in Texas is responsible to and accountable to adhere to both the

New TPAPN Individualized Participation Guidelines

By: Roy Muyinza, Communications Specialist, Texas Nurses Association

The Texas Peer Assistance Program for Nurses (TPAPN) was established in 1987 and has helped thousands of nurses with substance use and mental health conditions in recovery. Board of Nursing (BON) Sunset recommendations directed the BON and TPAPN to adjust the program to be more responsive to the individual needs of participants.

TPAPN has a newly defined mission centering on both helping nurses and safeguarding patients. TPAPN safeguards patients by providing early identification, support, monitoring, accountability, and advocacy to Texas nurses (APRNs, RNs, and LVNs) who have an identified substance use or mental health condition or related incident, so that the individual may return to safe nursing practice.

The TPAPN program is taking a new approach. Under the new model, nurses obtain an evaluation and proposed participation requirements before they enroll in the TPAPN program. This process enables nurses to fully understand what they are agreeing to prior to enrollment into the TPAPN program. The evaluation is a comprehensive evaluation by a qualified psychiatrist or psychologist who provides information on the person's diagnosis and severity, remission status, and individual needs. This information, together with license type and situational factors, enables TPAPN to individualize the appropriate level of program requirements (e.g., monitoring, social support, practice restrictions, etc.) within the flexible program framework. Furthermore, these approaches reflect the current evidence and best practices related to recovery of licensed professionals in safety-sensitive roles, such as nursing.

The new program also includes a revised role for volunteer nurse advocates. In line with evidence showing the pivotal role of peer support in recovery, volunteers now serve in a social peer support role rather than an oversight role. TPAPN partnered with Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration and the Center for Social Innovation to offer evidence-based training to peer advocates as they transition to a support role.

Participation in TPAPN is voluntary, and TPAPN hopes to see greater completion rates with the new, tailored approach. TPAPN's transformation is already underway, and the new model defining participation requirements in TPAPN will be fully launched in January 2019. It will continue to be a work in progress as TPAPN works to improve the program with the goal of supporting the recovery and return to safe practice of every nurse referred to the program.

Save the Date: TPAPN Spring Advocate Workshop

The Texas Peer Assistance Program for Nurses (TPAPN) will be conducting an Advocate Workshop this spring. The tentative date is April 12, 2019 at the Texas Nurses Association office, 4807 Spicewood Springs Rd., Bldg. 3, Ste. 100, Austin TX 78759. Space is limited; therefore, registration is required prior to attendance.

The confirmed date, location, and registration information will be accessible on the TPAPN website, (www.tpapn.org), prior to the event.

Food for Thought

It is important to remember that there is more to this topic than simply learning how to perform a particular procedure. Patient selection criteria, underlying physiology and/or pathophysiology, as well as indications for and contraindications to the procedure are among the many concepts that are fundamental to learning a new procedure. You must also learn to respond to and manage (as appropriate) untoward events/adverse reactions/complications that may occur as a result of the procedure. In many cases, on-the-job training will not include this type of content. If you are ever required to defend your practice for any reason (whether to the BON or any other entity), you will likely be required to provide evidence of education/training and documentation of competence related to the specific service you provided.

CNE & Me: Understanding the Board's Continuing Competency Requirements

The Texas Board of Nursing (BON or Board) licenses nurses and regulates the practice of nursing in the State of Texas. As the licensing agency for nurses in Texas, the Board has authority, granted by the Texas Legislature, to establish minimum continued competency requirements for nursing licensure renewal. Continuing competency is not only required to maintain an active nursing license in Texas, it is also an important part of a nurse's professional growth [Board Rules 216.3 & 217.11(1)(R)]. Continuing competency aims to ensure nurses stay abreast of current industry practices while enhancing their professional competency, educating them about new technology and treatment regimens, and updating their clinical skills [Board Rule 216.2]. The purpose of this article is to summarize the continuing competency requirements for nurses in Texas as well as describe the recent substantive changes to the Board's continuing competency rule, Board Rule 216.

To maintain active licensure as a Licensed Vocational Nurse (LVN) or Registered Nurse (RN) in Texas, there is not a practice hour requirement; and, meeting the continuing competency requirements set forth in the Nursing Practice Act (NPA) Sections 301.303 – 301.307 and Board Rule 216 allows Texas nurses to demonstrate ongoing competence in lieu of a minimum practice hour requirement set by the Board. Continuing education programs and activities are designed to promote and enrich a nurse's knowledge, improve a nurse's skills, and develop attitudes to enhance nursing practice, all of which aim to improve the delivery of health care to the public [Board Rule 216.2]. Board Rule 216 was recently amended by the Board based on recommendations from the Nursing Practice Advisory Committee (NPAC). The revised version of the rule went into effect on December 5, 2018. This updated and current version of Board Rule 216 is available on the Board's website under the Laws & Rules drop-down menu on the BON homepage. Agenda Item 7.4 from the July 2018 Board Meeting details the line-by-line changes made to this rule, including both the significant modifications recommended by NPAC and the minor changes made concerning grammar, syntax, and text placement for clarity and consistency of the rule.

In Texas, a nurse's license(s) always expires on the last day of the nurse's birth month, typically every two years. Licensees born in odd-numbered years always renew in odd-numbered years, and licensees born in even-numbered years always renew in even-numbered years. For example, Anna, RN, was born in April 1961, so Anna will always need to renew by April 30th of odd-numbered years (e.g., 2019, 2021, etc.). And, Joseph, LVN, was born in December 1988, so he will always need to renew by December 31st of even-numbered years (e.g., 2020, 2022, etc.).

As mentioned, a nurse's license is usually valid for a two-year period; however, there are a few instances when the licensing period may not be the standard two-year period. Newly added Board Rule 216.1(14) defines "licensing period" as the period of time in which nursing licensure status is current; it is determined by the licensee's birth month and year (usually beginning on the first day of the month after the birth month and ending on the last day of the birth month). The specific time frame for initial licensure and for the immediate licensing period following renewal of a delinquent license or license reactivation may vary from six months to 29 months; but, subsequent licensing periods will be two years in length. For instance, DeShawn, RN, was born in January 1987, so examples of his standard two-year licensing periods are February 1, 2017 – January 31, 2019, February 1, 2019 – January 31, 2021, etc. When DeShawn renews his RN license in January 2019, he will need to have completed the continuing competency requirements sometime between February 1, 2017 and the day that he applies to renew in January 2019. And, Molly, LVN, was born in June 1976, making July 1, 2018 – June 30, 2020, July 1, 2020 – June 30, 2022, etc., examples of her standard, two-year licensing periods. When Molly renews her LVN license in June 2020, she will need to have completed the continuing competency requirements sometime between July 1, 2018 and the day that she applies to renew in June 2020.

Nurses must meet the Board's continuing competency requirements at each license renewal and may demonstrate such by having either completed 20 contact hours of Continuing Nursing Education (CNE) or achieving, maintaining, or renewing a Board approved national nursing certification in his or her area of practice. CNE contact hours must be earned by participating in activities and programs approved by a credentialing agency or provider recognized by the Board. A list of these agencies/providers is available on the BON website and includes, for example, the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), the Emergency Nurses Association (ENA), and other state boards of nursing. Also, a list of approved national nursing certifications is available on the Board's website. To further clarify the subject area in which nurses are to complete their continuing competency, "area of practice" is defined in Board Rule 216.1(4) as any activity, assignment, or task in which the nurse utilized nursing knowledge, judgment, or skills during the licensing period. If a nurse does not have a current area of practice, the nurse may refer to his or her most recent area of practice. Advanced practice registered nurses (APRNs) have additional requirements beyond what is described in the text of this article. For more information concerning APRN requirements, please see Board Rule 216.3(c).

As part of the 20 contact hours to renew each licensing period, nurses must complete applicable targeted continuing education topics. Targeted continuing education is required for nurses based upon their level of licensure and/or area of practice, and the definition of this term was recently added to the rule [Board Rule 216.1(21)]. Examples of targeted continuing education include: nursing jurisprudence and nursing ethics (all nurses); older adult/geriatric care and forensic evidence collection (if applicable to the nurse's area of practice); and tick-borne diseases, pharmaco-therapeutics, and prescription of controlled substances (certain APRNs). All contact hours earned related to targeted continuing education requirements count toward the 20 total contact hours needed to renew, for LVNs and RNs. For more information about targeted continuing education, please see Board Rule 216.3.

Certain activities cannot be counted toward your contact hours to renew your license even if they are related to your area of practice. During the recent changes made to Board Rule 216 by the Board, no additional activities were added to the list of activities that are not acceptable as continuing education. Instead, courses that focus upon self-improvement, changes in attitude, self-therapy, and self-awareness are now acceptable for continuing competency providing they delineate an impact on nursing practice or improved patient outcomes. This change was recommended to the Board by the Texas Nurses Association (TNA) based upon their synthesis of research findings that have been published over the last decade. The findings revealed themes such as compassion fatigue, moral distress, fatigue, resilience, workplace violence, and nursing satisfaction do affect nursing practice and patient safety. NPAC agreed with the findings presented to the Board by TNA and recommended that the Board make this change. Please see Board Rule 216.6, recently revised, for more information.

There are many abbreviations and terms used by nurses around the subject of continuing competency, such as CEU, CE, or CNE. These terms are often incorrectly used interchangeably. The term Continuing Education Unit (CEU) is not used by the Board. The current terms to know are Continuing Nursing Education (CNE), continuing education (CE), and contact hour [Board Rule 216.1(10) & (11)]. Since "contact hour" is another term that often leads to confusion, the definition of a contact hour was recently amended in Board Rule 216. Rather than specifying a number of minutes or clock hours that equate to one contact hour, the new definition is a measure of time, determined by Board-recognized credentialing agen- cies and providers of continuing education, awarded to participants for successful completion of continuing education offerings [Board Rule 216.1(10)]. With the new rule in effect, so long as a nurse ensures the CNE offering is approved by a credentialing agency or provider recognized by the Board and it relates to the nurse's area of practice, the number of contact hours printed on the certificate of completion will apply directly (1:1) to the 20 contact hours of CNE needed for licensure renewal.

Did you know that after passing the NCLEX or endorsing into Texas, new Texas nurses are exempt from most continuing competency requirements for the issuance of the initial Texas license and for the immediate licensing period following initial Texas licensure, so long as the initial renewal occurs before the expiration date? (Please note that Board Rule 216.3(d), Forensic Evidence Collection, if applicable to the nurse's area of practice, cannot be exempted even during the first renewal.)

Beyond requiring a nurse to complete continuing education offerings in the nurse's area of practice that are approved by a credentialing agency or provider recognized by the Board, Board Rule 216.4 outlines the criteria for acceptable continuing education offerings. This includes a requirement that documented proof of successful completion must contain the name of the provider; program title, date, and location; number of contact hours; provider number; and name of the credentialing agency. Further, each individual nurse is personally responsible to select and participate in continuing competency activities that meet the requirements and criteria listed in Board Rule 216 and maintain a record of CNE activities, for example, original certificates of completion, contact hour certificates, or official academic transcripts, for a minimum of three consecutive licensing periods or six years (or longer if required by Board rule).

Did you know there are additional methods for meeting continuing competency requirements beyond traditional CNE contact hours or a national nursing certification? For example, academic courses within the framework of a curriculum that leads to an academic degree in nursing or any academic course directly relevant to the licensee's area of nursing practice allow a nurse to receive CNE credit for attending and completing such courses with a grade of "C" or better or a "Pass" on a Pass/Fail grading system. Contact hours may only be obtained by this means for academic courses that were completed within the licensing period. CNE credit for academic courses will convert on the following basis: one academic quarter hour equals 10 contact hours; one academic semester hour equals 15 contact hours. An official transcript is required upon audit by the Board. Additionally, nurses can receive CNE credit for developing and/or presenting CNE programs approved by one of the credentialing agencies or providers recognized by the Board and for authoring a manuscript related to nursing that is published in a nursing or health-related textbook or journal. Please see Board Rule 216.5 for more details.

When you renew your license, you are required to sign a statement attesting that the CNE contact hours or approved national nursing certification requirement have been met. The contact hours you use to renew must have been completed within the licensing period and by the time of application for license renewal. Renewing your license without completing the continuing competency requirements is grounds for disciplinary action by the Board. In other words, do not apply to renew your license until you have completed all of your requirements. For example, if your license expires in August, but you only have 18 contact hours of CNE by mid-August and plan to attend a course on August 28th awarding the remaining two contact hours you need, you have to wait until after you have completed the course on August 28th before you can renew because you will not have the required 20 contact hours of CNE until then. But, be sure to renew by August 31st (last day of birth month) to avoid having your license expire and go into delinquent status. Any contact hours earned in a previous licensing period will not be accepted, and additional contact hours earned may not be used for subsequent licensure renewals.

Nurses do not need to submit proof of compliance with CNE contact hours and/or a national nursing certification unless they are audited. The Board randomly audits licensees, and selected nurses will be sent an email and postal mail notice 90 days before their license expiration date letting them know they have been selected for an audit with instructions for the audit process.

The Board offers several CNE offerings nurses can use toward their continuing competency requirements. Please visit the CNE Course Catalog on the BON homepage for more details. Examples of online courses currently available by the Board include: Nursing Regulations for Safe Practice (a new version will be available Spring 2019), Documentation: So Let It Be Said... In Writing That Is, Determining APRN Scope of Practice, and Prescriptive Authority for APRNs. Online courses about nursing delegation and nursing peer review will also be available in 2019.

You can find more information about continuing competency on the Board's website under the Education drop-down menu on the BON homepage by selecting "Continuing Nursing Education & Competency." Look for updates to this section of the website, coming soon, to provide a more accessible, user-friendly layout of this important information. Also, be sure to keep an eye out for any additional changes related to continuing competency requirements that may be born out of the 86th Texas Legislative Session, which begins on January 8, 2019. Any legislative changes affecting nurses or nursing practice will be published in a future BON Bulletin.

*Determining Your Third Two-Year Licensing Period for the Nursing Jurisprudence and Nursing Ethics CNE Requirement

The nursing jurisprudence and nursing ethics CNE requirement must be completed before the end of every third two-year licensing period. To follow are various examples illustrating how to determine when a nurse needs to complete this requirement based upon his/her birth month and year and licensure date. This requirement only applies to licensing periods that began on or after January 1, 2014.

Examples of nurses licensed before the nursing jurisprudence and nursing ethics CNE requirement went into effect (1/1/14):	Examples of nurses licensed after the nursing jurisprudence and nursing ethics CNE requirement went into effect (1/1/14):
Javier, LVN. Born 12/24/73. Licensed in TX 8/10/96. - Licensing period = 1/1/14 – 12/31/15 - Licensing period = 1/1/16 – 12/31/17 - Licensing period = 1/1/18 – 12/31/19 Thus, Javier must complete at least 2 contact hours of CNE related to nursing jurisprudence and nursing ethics between 1/1/14 and 12/31/19. - Licensing period = 1/1/20 – 12/31/21 - Licensing period = 1/1/22 – 12/31/23 - Licensing period = 1/1/24 – 12/31/25 And, Javier will need to complete at least 2 contact hours related to nursing jurisprudence and nursing ethics again between 1/1/20 and 12/31/25, and so forth.	Huan, RN. Monica, RN. Born 3/17/86. Licensed in TX 2/5/09. - Licensing period = 4/1/14 – 3/31/16 - Licensing period = 4/1/16 – 3/31/18 - Licensing period = 4/1/18 – 3/31/20 Thus, Monica must complete at least 2 contact hours of CNE related to nursing jurisprudence and nursing ethics between 4/1/14 and 3/31/20. - Licensing period = 4/1/20 – 3/31/22 - Licensing period = 4/1/22 – 3/31/24 - Licensing period = 4/1/24 – 3/31/26 And, Monica will need to complete at least 2 contact hours related to nursing jurisprudence and nursing ethics again between 4/1/20 and 3/31/26, and so forth.	Ernesto, RN. 2019 Texas Legislative Session Begins: Free Resources Available for Monitoring the Session

In Rule 217.11, the Board sets out its expectations that nurses have a responsibility to know and conform to not only the Nursing Practice Act and Board's Rules, but all rules and regulations that originate as Federal, State or local laws. On January 8, 2019, the 86th Texas Legislative Session began. Bill filing in the House of Representatives will continue until March 8th although the Senate can file bills at any time during the session. The regular session will continue through May 27th. Laws passed by the Legislature can impact nursing practice in a variety of ways. Laws passed during the Texas Legislative Session can affect the manner in which you obtain your education, your license, or what you may do in the course of your professional nursing practice. The Board is not a source for information pertaining to the status or progress of bills or political issues associated with legislation. Many such sources exist. You can obtain information about proposed and enacted laws and rules that pertain to nursing practice by visiting one of several websites. Below are some free sites available to you.

State Legislation

The State of Texas has a number of informative websites for looking at pending or passed legislation. A good place to start your search is the site Texas Legislature Online located at www.capitol.state.tx.us/. This site also links to the Texas Senate and House of Representatives. You can enter a word or phrase in the search menu and pull up bills containing those words. You can also go through search matches and check the status, history, or language of those bills. Previous legislative sessions may also be accessed through this site.

Texas Register

The Board of Nursing Bulletin often mentions the Texas Register as the publication where nurses can read about proposed rule changes or new rules that have been adopted by state agencies. The website for the Texas Register is www.sos.state.tx.us/texreg/index.html. The Texas Register is updated on a weekly basis by the Office of the Secretary of State.

Federal Legislation

One of the best resources for checking on legislation in the U.S. House of Representatives or U.S. Senate is Thomas Legislative Service which is located at <http://thomas.loc.gov/home/thomas2.html>. You can enter a word or phrase in the search window for a list of bills containing those key words or go straight to a specific House or Senate bill. You can also read the full text of the bill to see its relevance to your practice or check the bill's status within the legislative process.

Other Web Resources

Professional organizations and associations are very active during the legislative session monitoring, responding, and proposing legislation. They frequently have websites that offer updates on legislation affecting nursing.
